PRESS RELEASE

Clearwater Marine Aquarium to reveal new rescued sea turtle habitat tomorrow

Clearwater, FL (June 9, 2016) – After many months of careful planning and construction, Clearwater Marine Aquarium (CMA) will debut a new rescued sea turtle habitat for its resident turtles. The renovated habitat, renamed Mavis’s Rescue Hideaway, will open to the public Friday, June 10 at 11:00am. Media are invited to attend the VIP sneak peek, beginning at 10:00am.

CMA fans from around the world will be able to tune in and watch the rescued sea turtle habitat debut live from the aquarium’s Facebook and Periscope profiles. Tomorrow’s grand opening will also include an underwater message delivered by David Yates, the aquarium’s CEO, from inside the habitat.

Named after the Dolphin Tale 2 character “Mavis,” a rescued, rehabilitated, and released green sea turtle, the new rescued sea turtle habitat will house the animal actor who played him. “Harold,” who arrived at CMA with a visual impairment in 2010, will be one of the many residents of the newly renovated habitat, which has been home to many beloved animals since the aquarium’s beginnings.

Mavis’s Rescue Hideaway is a celebration of many efforts. The state of Florida appropriated $2 million through the Division of Cultural Affairs for the aquarium’s capital campaign. John Draheim, CMA chairman of the board, and his wife Jan, who volunteers regularly in the sea turtle department, also made a $100,000 contribution to the improvement of the aquarium. Additionally, CMA receives continual support for the Sea Turtle Program from Duke Energy.
