Clearwater, FL (Oct. 23, 2018) – The Boston Red Sox and LA Dodgers will play their first game for the 2018 World Series championship tonight and Nicholas the rescued dolphin at Clearwater Marine Aquarium (CMA) has made his prediction for the championship. Currently 7 for 9 in his predictions, Nicholas is famous for his accurate predictions of sporting events. On Tuesday, October 23, Nicholas predicted the LA Dodgers to win the 2018 World Series championship against the Boston Red Sox. Last year Nicholas correctly predicted the Houston Astros to win against the LA Dodgers.

Nicholas is a rescued bottlenose dolphin that was found stranded with severe sunburns. He was orphaned and unable to learn necessary survival skills as a calf, therefore he became a permanent resident at Clearwater Marine Aquarium. Making unbelievable sports predictions is just one of Nick's many talents he has demonstrated and a special part of his animal enrichment.
